* We apply cut-off times to all fixings we offer. After these times, orders will not be accepted. These times are set by us in our discretion.

Charging

NatWest Markets applies a charge to all orders at the above fixes to reflect the risk borne by us in accepting these orders. The charge is calculated as a percentage (0.0015%) of the order notional and is otherwise expressed as an amount of a given currency per million of that currency (e.g. 15 USD per million USD or 15 JPY per million JPY).

This charge is reflected by an adjustment to the rate at which you transact. Details of charges are available upon request. In addition to this charge, the all-in price may include a separate sales margin which will be disclosed to you at the time the order is accepted.

For example, if you were buying EURUSD at the fix, your rate would be the EURUSD published fix mid-rate + the charge (15 units per million of the notional) + a sales margin (if any). Accordingly, if today's EURUSD mid-rate is 1.16 then the all in rate you will trade at for a notional of EUR 2,000,000 would be 1.160017 (1.16 + (1.16 * 0.0015%)), which equates to a EUR 30 charge (EUR 2,000,000 * 0.0015% = EUR 30). In addition, if the agreed sales margin is 3 bps your all in rate would be 1.160317 (1.160017 + 0.0003).

We will use the published spot rates where available for the currency pair and/or tenor but, where we are required to derive the applicable rate, we will use the published spot rates and adjust using NatWest Markets forward points to factor in tenor or any settlement day mismatches.

Potential NWM activity ahead of fixes

We will accept orders at certain fixings on your behalf but it is important for you to be aware that, in order for us to appropriately manage market risk, we may enter the market ahead of the fix. This, or other market factors, may result in the market moving for or against you depending on the size of your transaction relative to market liquidity.
